

Polin Introduces First Fully Transparent Waterslide

Polin Waterparks introduced what the company calls the world's first fully transparent composite waterslide. Named the Glassy Slide, the product was developed in Polin's research and development center and is created using light resin transfer molding, which produces a long-lasting and uniformly smooth surface without yielding harmful environmental emissions. Polin said unlike acrylic slides, the Glassy Slide is entirely transparent, and the surface doesn't break down over time.
