Leading The Way in Waterslide Manufacturing Technologies

A core of Polin Waterpark's R&D strategy is its concentration on financial, customer and process perspectives with particular emphasis on learning, dissemination and innovation.

Polin Waterparks proved its dedication to these aspects of R&D when the company pioneered the advancement and application of light resin transfer molding (LRTM) in waterslide manufacturing.

In 2006, it converted 100 percent of its fiberglass production to LRTM, a first in the aquatic-attractions industry. This development raised the bar for the entire waterpark industry. And, since then, Polin Waterparks has regularly introduced new innovations.

Theming

We believe the rides that tell better stories will be the best. Our signature rides present unparalleled design, intense rider experiences, and creative theming. A great example of a themed waterslide in our industry is King Cobra. This is a game-changing waterslide that is the first to offer a theme built into its fiberglass design. Polin's patented state-of-art production technology UTEXTURE offers unlimited options for the thematization needs of the industry with its applicability to all slides.

And now, Stingray promises to dive into an exciting experience to the depths of the underwater world with its unique look. It is a high-capacity and self-themed slide that reveals the things you can do with Utexture giving the entertainment and visuality together that the industry has been waiting for a long time. Not looking for the Stingray or King Cobra theme? No worries! Polin's UTEXTURE allows them to be designed with any theme to match your park's motif. Proud to offer unlimited theming opportunities with our products.

Splash VR

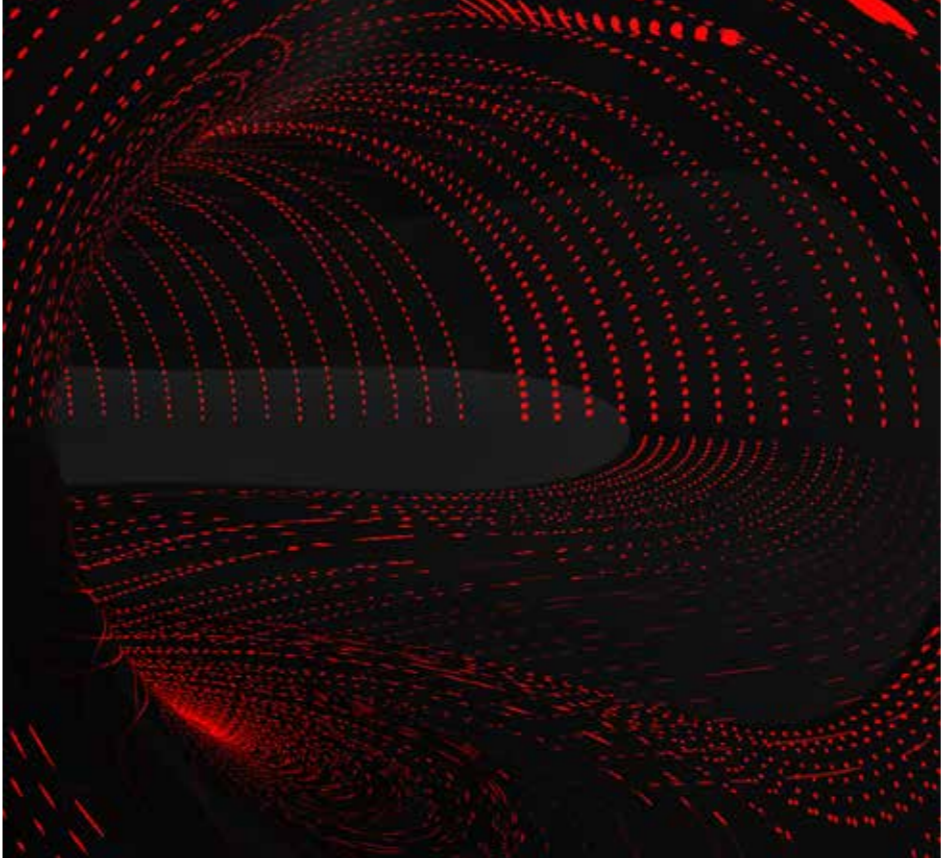

Splash VR is world's first virtual reality experience in the world of waterparks. This solution deploys a virtual-reality experience for waterpark guests without impacting the structure of existing waterslides.

VR waterslide technology provides a full 360-degree experience of varying scenarios throughout each ride. Unlimited scenario options include falling from a waterfall; traveling through dinosaur eras, space, or other futuristic times; horror-action experiences; and licensed character themes for kids.

A user-friendly interface that allows guests to select desired interactions. It is based on a local slider's GPS system (Slider Positioning System). A synchronized VR display that can begin the ride displaying real-life images and then transition to a completely animated experience.
